Keller, 1,555 pounds at $22.27; Wright & Morris, 2,410 pounds at $21.10; Wright & Watkins, 3,765 pounds at $21.66; Telford, Hinkle & Son, 3,380 pounds at $21.29; Boardman & Markland, 2,980 pounds at $25.57; Thompson & Taylor, 3,190 pounds at $21.16; W. T. Linville, 5,480 pounds at $20.47.

INDEPENDENT—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 24.

At the Independent Warehouse the total sales were 108,860 pounds for $20,595.95, at an average of $18.92. Some of the best averages follow: G. W. Estes, 2,210 pounds at $20.73; H. Smith, 3,855 pounds at $19.59; Thompson & Farley, 4,670 pounds at $22.06; Wagner & Herrington, 2,435 pounds at $21.17; Current & Carrier, 3,690 pounds at $20.57; P. L. Dimmitt & Roy Coy, 5,470 pounds at $23.16; Payne & Williams, 6,250 pounds at $21.56; Redmon and Martin & Son, 1,845 pounds at $20.52.

BOURBON—THURSDAY, JAN. 25.

The Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Company sold yesterday 192,050 pounds of tobacco for $38,292.88, an average of $19.93. The market was strong and active on all grades. Some of the averages are as follows:

Wyatt & Shoemaker, 2,530 pounds, average $25.69; E. K. Thomas & Myers, 2,735, average $19.90; Claybrook & Smart, 4,125 pounds, average $19.78; Masterson & Lanter, 3,205 pounds, average $21.95; Burke, Brent & Snapp, 4,080, average $22.27; Buckner & January, 3,125 pounds, average $20.20; Talbott Bros. & Hough, 3,610 pounds, average $20.11; Burke, Brent & Snapp, 4,335 pounds, average $20.78; C. Cunningham, 3,340 pounds, average $21.87; Pence & Wells, 3,860 pounds, average $19.33; M. B. Lovell & Sons, 3,470 pounds, average $22.15; Burke, Brent & Grey, 4,885 pounds, average $22.97; Connell Bros. & Shanks, 3,310 pounds, average $20.21; Hopkins & Harmon, 4,500 pounds, average $21.54; Marshall & Taylor, 4,285 pounds, average $21.40; J. W. Reed & Son, 3,260 pounds, average $20.13; Craft & Allen, 2,625 pounds, average $23.45; Marr & Givlin, 2,605 pounds, average $23.20; Hancock & Thompson, 8,140 pounds, average $21.13; Redmon & Redmon, 4,115 pounds, average $10.10; Shannon & Clay, 2,475 pounds, average $20.95; W. F. Cain, 6,020 pounds, average $20.50; Wiedemann & Fox, 1,830 pounds, average $20.65.

INDEPENDENT—THURSDAY, JAN. 25.

The Independent House sold yesterday $1,280 pounds of tobacco for a total of $15,611.03, an average of $19.21. Owing to the fact that the report arrived too late for publication, the crop averages are laid over.

At the Planters' House, in Lexington, Wednesday, the following crops were sold by Bourbon county growers: J. W. Clifford, 1,140 pounds at $19.03; J. W. Clifford, 4,595 pounds at $19.03; Johnson & Beagle, 4,310 pounds at $19.53.

Frank P. White & Son, of Paris, sold a crop of 1,340 pounds of tobacco on the Lexington market this week, that brought an average price of $26.33 per hundred, which is said to have been higher by $8 per hundred than has been paid for a crop of tobacco this season. Mr. White said that this crop was grown by his son, William Preston White, on a little less than an acre of ground, and that it was the entire crop with all the grades represented.

PLANT MEETING OF HOME TELEPHONE COMPANY.

A district meeting of the "plant men" of the Central Home Telephone & Telegraph Company, of which the Paris Home Telephone is not the least important member, will be held in Paris on the afternoon and night of Monday, January 29.

A conference for managers only will be held in the office of the Paris Home Telephone Co. in the afternoon, while the other employees in "plant" department are arriving and mingling socially. A supper will be tendered the visitors and local employees at the Windsor Hotel, after which the regular business session will be held in the local office of the company.

At these meetings the employees will compare notes and discuss points of interest in matters pertaining to their line of work, with the object of promoting and increasing harmony, loyalty, co-operation and efficiency in their relations to the company and their work. General Superintendent Minor Corman and other prominent officials from the General Office at Louisville, will be present and address the meeting.

"THE GAS IS ON;" "THERE'S JOY AT HOME."

The "gas famine" which prevailed in Paris since the break in the big gas main of the Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company last Monday morning, was relieved about 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, when the return of the precious article of fuel and illumination was heralded by the striking of the big tower bell on the roof of the Paris fire department. There had been two days of doubt and anxiety, mingled with a touch of both comedy and near tragedy, giving the situation a tinge of both sadness and joy. A short time after the glad tidings passed from one place to another that "the gas is on" there was a concerted rush to test the good news, and incidentally, the gas pressure.

Out at the city limits where the pipe line comes into Paris by way of the Clintonville pike, Superintendent C. E. Steenbergen, of the Paris Gas & Electric Co., anxiously waited for the "tell-tale" that would indicate the return of the pressure, and immediately sent word into the city. The pressure was very weak at first, but gradually grew stronger, until at night it was almost normal, and the people who had for nearly two days been without means of getting fuel and heat experienced a great relief. Persons who had not eaten a meal at home since Monday morning were enabled to get acquainted with the family table again.

The gas was turned on in the pipes in the field Tuesday morning after the damage at Slate Creek, in Montgomery county, had been repaired, but an hour later the workmen were compelled to return and turn off the supply. A second break had occurred in the line while it was being tested, and it became necessary to repair that before consumers could be supplied. At noon the gates were closed, and Superintendent Steenbergen made the announcement that the gas would probably be turned on by night. The gates of the pipe line in the field were opened again at 3:30 o'clock and the pumps were set to work bringing the pressure up to normal, and now it's all right again.

During the morning and afternoon the office force of the Paris Gas & Electric Co. was besieged with inquiries as to just what hour the gas would be turned on again, and they very courteously gave out what information they had that would be of any practical value. The patrons of the local company were very patient, realizing the fact that the Paris Gas & Electric Co. was not responsible for the trouble and had been doing all in their power to get accurate information as to when the service would be resumed. The public fully realized the delicate situation in which the local company had been unavoidably placed through the unfortunate break in the pipe line, and acted accordingly. The local office handled the situation in an admirable manner, and Superintendent Steenbergen and his assistants are entitled to their fair share of credit.

A sufficient amount of gas for the consumer is now assured and reports from headquarters state that there will be no further trouble. The pressure being carried on the pipe line is almost at normal again, the company deeming it best to increase the pressure gradually, rather than run the risk of another break in the pipe line by increasing the pressure too hurriedly. The pressure in the city mains is somewhat higher than that maintained in the pipe line, and fluctuates considerably according to the amount of gas used.

There was an amusing side to the situation, though it may not have appeared very strongly to the sense of humor of some who were caught without the means of getting their meals. In many localities, housekeepers who were fortunate in having coal ranges were visited by their less fortunate neighbors, bearing coffee pots, buckets and other household utensils, for the purpose of getting a wee bit of breakfast for the man of the house before he went to his daily toil. Restaurants were crowded with customers who had been used to getting their daily meals at home, and each new arrival had a tale of woe to tell. The gloom was as thick as a London fog and nothing short of the return of the gas service could dispel it.

CLUB MEETING.

"John Galsworthy, the Man and His Plays," was the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Paris Literary Club, Wednesday afternoon. A round table discussion of "Justice," Galsworthy's principal play, was led by Miss Nellie Fithian, and a very interesting presentation of the play and its ethical value was given by Mrs. Frank Fithian. Miss Elizabeth Crutcher gave an appreciation of the play's rank among modern dramas.

WINCHESTER GIRL FINDS GOLD NUGGET IN ASHES

While cleaning out the ashes from a fire place which had been in constant use for many years Miss Lelia Croxton, of Clark county, found a large nugget of pure gold. It weighed ten pennyweights and is said by jewelers to be large enough to make a handsome gold watch.

Many years ago a watch belonging to Miss Croxton's grandfather disappeared and was believed to have been stolen. Miss Clay Croxton, now Mrs. Hayden Clement, a few years ago lost a valuable ring. Jewelers say, however, that the nugget contains more gold than either or both of the lost articles.

SETTLED WEATHER BRINGS RELIEF FROM HIGH WATER.

With the return of settled and colder weather the threatening conditions that were a menace from overflowing streams in the county have passed away, and things have resumed their normal aspect. The streams in the city and county, that took a sudden notion to get out of their beds, have retired again and pulled the cover over them like all self-respecting streams should. There was no considerable property loss in the city on account of the high water, but the rising streams made life miserable for the dwellers in the lowlands for a short time.

In the county the loss was greater than in the city—fencing, fodder shocks, houses and crops in many instances being carried away by the waters. Mr. J. Harry Clay was one of the heaviest losers, about twenty acres of hemp on his land, valued at about $3,000, being washed away.

The snow blockade on the county roads has also been removed, and the resumption of travel between the city and the blockaded neighborhoods of the county has restored the balance. The major portion of the credit for getting travel open to the public on the pikes in this county is due to County Judge Charles A. McMillan, who, as soon as it was possible for the teams to do any work of the kind, sent out the county teams with snow plows over all the roads, clearing them for traffic. Owing to the fact that the equipment was necessarily limited only the main roads were cleared at first, but the others soon followed, and the people of the county were enabled to resume travel to and from their homes, where they had been virtually held prisoners.

Judge McMillan has always been an active worker in the interest of the roads in this county, and his prompt action in relieving the blockade was a very thoughtful one, and one to which he is entitled to the fullest credit. As far as has been reported Judge McMillan was the only County Judge in the State to take action of this kind on his own initiative, and it is needless to say that he has had warm thanks of the residents of both the city and county.

VOTERS WANT W. O. HINTON TO ENTER MAYORALTY RACE

TO MR. W. O. HINTON:

In looking for a suitable candidate for Mayor, one who can win both nomination and election, because he deserves to win, the eyes of the public naturally turn to you as the best and most available candidate. You have been for many years a member of the Council for your ward, and have served on all the important committees of that body. You are intimately acquainted with all the public business of the city, and scarcely any other citizen is so familiar as you with its financial condition and needs.

The people of Paris believe that in all your long public service you have been zealous solely for the public good, and have never used your position for private gain. You have stood for what was best in the public service, and no influence, except your own conscience, has ever dictated any of your public acts. You have always been honest, faithful and efficient—three qualities of the highest importance in a public officer. We have no doubt you would carry all these qualities into the Mayor's office with you. Believing this, if you will allow your name to be used as a candidate for that office, you will receive the loyal support of

MANY VOTERS.

The Bruce Miller farm of 122 acres, near Paris, will be sold at auction Thursday, Feb. 8. See descriptive advertisement on page 2 of The Kentuckian-Citizen.

WILLIAM COOPER PROMOTED TO ASSISTANT POSTMASTER

Postmaster J. Walter Payne yesterday received official confirmation from Washington of the appointment of Mr. William Cooper, to be Assistant Postmaster in the Paris postoffice. The appointment was sent to the Senate Tuesday and confirmed Wednesday. Mr. Cooper, who has been the very efficient Chief Clerk in the local office for several years, will succeed Mr. Carlisle Wilmoth, who retires to take an active part in the business affairs of the Wilmoth Grocery Company, of which he is a member.

Mr. Cooper's appointment is a deserved recognition of meritorious service extending over a period of several years, during which time he has fully and faithfully met every demand upon him. He has been and will continue to be immensely popular with patrons of the Paris postoffice.

BOURBON MEMBERS OF BLUEGRASS FAIR DIRECTORS

At the meeting of the stockholders of the Bluegrass Fair Association held in Lexington, Wednesday, Mr. John J. Redmon, of the North Middleton vicinity, was elected a member of the Board of Directors and Mr. Catesby Woodford, of Paris, was elected a member of the Advisory Committee to serve with the officers of the Association in conducting the Bluegrass Fair. The following officers were elected to serve during 1917: Louis J. Haggin, president; S. S. Cobins, vice-president; Denny B. Goode, secretary; John G. Cramer, treasurer.

MAYOR HINTON DECLINES TO MAKE MAYORALTY RACE.

PARIS, KY., Jan. 25, 1917.

Editor of THE BOURBON NEWS, Paris, Ky.

Dear Sir:

The recent call in your columns asking me to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Mayor has been read by me with careful consideration and with much pleasure. It has led me to believe that the policies adopted during my administration have met with the approval of those to whom I am indebted for the honor of having been permitted to fill the highest office within the gift of the people of this city for the eight years now coming to a close. This compliment is to me a source of great gratification, coming as it does from citizens of my native town in which my whole life has been spent, and where my faithful friends have so often honored me with public office, both in city and in county. When I recall the five terms as Mayor and several terms as Councilman, and three terms in the State Legislature, together with frequent offices within my party which I have been permitted to fill, it may seem that I ought not to refuse the request of those who have thus honored me and have made it possible for me to say I have never been denied any office to which I have aspired.

I am deeply grateful for all the loyalty of my friends and for this renewed expression of confidence and good will, all of which I have striven to deserve through conscientious service for the upbuilding and betterment of Paris and Bourbon County. Their interests I have always considered identical with my own, and have endeavored at all times to give to the supervision of my duties as Mayor the same care and attention that I would devote to my own personal affairs.

By watchfulness as Mayor and guardian of the city's resources with the faithful co-operation of my associates in office as well as the efficiency of my predecessor and others before him, we have been able to point with pride to the growth of Paris into the best city of its size in our State.

By a conservative expenditure of the resources at our disposal we have been able to accomplish this without a large burdensome debt and have been able besides to materially reduce the city's bonded debt. It has ever been my policy to provide every advantage and improvement for the city consistent with good business judgment, and to accomplish this has meant no little burden of responsibility, and sacrifice of time and thought, all of which has been cheerfully given in return for the confidence placed in me.

While I fully realize the obligations I owe this community for the many honors that have been conferred on me, yet I feel that at my age, after so long a public service I am entitled to a much coveted rest from the burdens of office and I must decline to become a candidate for the nomination for the office of Mayor.

You may have assurance of my continued, deep interest in the welfare of the city's every interest and I am sure that the voters of Paris can and will at the proper time select for my successor a man whose judgment and interest shall be such as to insure that Paris shall continue on the same solid, conservative basis that has brought to her through the years a substantial growth and an enviable reputation for careful management and safety for all interests.

With my heartfelt thanks for the many considerations I have enjoyed at the hands of my fellow citizens, I remain,

Faithfully yours,
J. T. HINTON.

FORMER PARISIAN "GOES UP."

Letters to Paris relatives from Mr. W. Fithian Lileston, formerly of Paris, who has for several years been connected with the legal department of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad, at Parsons, Kansas, and later with a legal firm in Wichita, Kansas, stated that he had formed a partnership with the legal firm of Vermillion, Evans & Carey, in Wichita, succeeding to the interest in the firm formerly owned by the heirs of the late Gov. W. E. Stanley.

Mr. Lileston, who is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. Lileston, of Paris, will take his place with the firm on February 1. He is a graduate of the Paris High School and of Centre College at Danville. He has won his spurs since going to the wild and woolly West, and his many friends in Paris are extremely glad to learn of his success, and wish him a prosperous time in his new relations.

CLARK COUNTY PEOPLE OPPOSE SPECIAL SESSION

Citizens and taxpayers of Clark county at a meeting held in Winchester, Tuesday, for the purpose of discussing the Kentucky Tax Commission's report, elected L. B. Cockrell chairman and H. V. Thompson secretary. The chairman appointed S. T. Prewitt, Dr. C. G. Stephenson, T. L. Hampton, E. B. Dooley and George G. Prewitt as members of a committee, which drafted the following message, which was sent to Gov. A. O. Stanley: "It is rumored that a special session of the Legislature is about to be called to consider the Kentucky Tax Commission's report. We feel that the recommendations of the commission are unjust and detrimental to the agricultural interests of the State. We feel that a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of amending our tax laws is unnecessary and should not be called."

A mass meeting of the citizens of Scott county will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the court house for the purpose of discussing the question of an extra session of the Legislature on the proposition of the new tax law.

OKLAHOMIAN HAS OLD BOOK PUBLISHED IN PARIS.

In a letter written to Postmaster J. Walter Payne, Mr. J. T. Acre, of Canton, Oklahoma, a former resident of Kentucky, tells of an interesting relic in the shape of an old arithmetic published in Paris in 1817, which recently came into his possession. In his letter Mr. Acre says:

"Canton, Okla., Jan. 21, 1917. "Postmaster, Paris, Ky. "Dear Sir:—I have in my possession an arithmetic that was made in Paris, Kentucky, January 14, in the year 1817, and was purchased by Leonard Acre in 1820, and which has been in the Acre family ever since. There is not a leaf missing, and the old book is in a remarkably fine state of preservation.

"Jessie Guthrie was the author of the book, which was then in its fourth corrected edition. It was printed, bound, published and sold in Paris, Ky., by the Rev. John Lyle. In the dedication of the book the work is recommended by Governor Christopher Greenup; James Moore, President of the Transylvania University; Andrew Steele, B. A., late Professor of Languages; Barabass McHenry, teacher in the Frankfort School; Samuel Throckmorton; Valentine Cook; Harry Taulmin; Secretary of State James Blythe; Robert H. Bishop; Ebenezer Sharp, Professor of Dead Languages.

"I am not advertising this old book for sale. However, I think this is the only copy of the work in existence, as it is now 103 years old, and I thought it would be a pleasure for some of the relations of the people named therein to know where the book could be found.

"Yours Truly,
J. T. ACRE, Canton, Okla."

Mr. Payne turned the letter over to THE NEWS in hope that its publication might be the means of the relatives of the parties named in the old book getting into communication with Mr. Acre.

Rev. John Lyle in 1806 conducted the Bourbon Academy, a school for young women in Paris, connected with his brother, Joel R. Lyle, who afterward became editor and proprietor of the Western Citizen, now a part of the Kentuckian-Citizen, of Paris. The school was conducted in the house that has long been the residence of the late Mr. N. B. Rion, one of the prominent pioneer citizens of Paris in those days. The old book Mr. Acre refers to was probably printed in the office of the old Western Citizen, which was then on the site of the building on Main street now occupied by the Ardrey Drug Company.

ALARM OF FIRE.

An alarm from Box 21 early yesterday morning called the fire department to the residence of Mrs. McDonald, on Higgins avenue. They could find no evidences of conflagration anywhere and returned without getting into action.

EDITORIAL MUSINGS.

The Problems of Retail Trade.

This is the first of a series of editorials on the above subjects.

This is a period when many people buy for appearances, rather than for durable values. If an article looks attractive, many people will buy it, even if their own judgment and the store people warn them it will not give durable wear. As durable goods are often not stylish, and as stylish goods are often not durable, the merchant is a good deal puzzled as to which quality the public really values the more highly.

There are probably not so many good judges of the value of fabrics as in former years. The old timers, even in making a small purchase, scrutinized it very carefully, and deliberated thoughtfully, often asked advice of neighbors and friends. To-day the thought that used to go into the matter of wear is devoted to the question of style or fit.

Modern science has developed many methods of making cheap goods appear attractive. One merchant said the other day that though he had been in business 20 years, he was frequently unable to detect the presence of poor material, so cleverly it is concealed. So he had to ask the salesman what the goods were made of, and had to depend on their honesty, as evidenced by past dealings and the record of the houses they represent. If an experienced dealer is thus sometimes deceived by clever imitations, the general public is even less able to buy on its own judgment alone.

So the public depends more than ever on the honesty of the men with whom it is dealing. Here comes in the advantage of dealing with the merchants near one's home. They can't afford to sell goods that are not as represented. A sale made under a misunderstanding or false impression is left handed advertising of the worst kind. The success of the home merchant is dependent upon selling goods for just what they are.

Railroad Safety.

The Safety First campaign is making its impression in the railroad offices. Formerly the advertising agents used to talk about fine scenery, luxurious cars, fast trains. Now they are beginning to realize that safety first is mighty good publicity.

The Union Pacific Railroad recently published its annual report. It was able to show that it carried 8,951,374 passengers during its last fiscal year. And it didn't kill a single one. This is splendid advertising.

The average American is a reckless person. He dislikes to seem timid. But afterward, he thinks it over, and concludes that he won't take such risks again.

The chances of railroad accident are not bad at the worst. They never deter people from going where they want to. But take a man setting out on a journey, and give him a choice of two routes, each equally direct. Let one be over a road with a clean accident record, the other over a line that has had disasters. Nine out of ten, perhaps 99 per cent, will choose the road with the good record.

Safety is something the railroad magnates should work on every minute. A veteran railroad man was speaking the other day about a certain road that has a good record, though not notable for fast trains or luxurious service. He was asked how this line kept up its safety standard.

"Well," he said, "I think it's because the head men are out on the line all the time. They let their subordinates handle business details, and they live in cabs and cabooses, and hang around switches and junctions. They know every foot of track and every man on the road. If there is loose work going on, they know it. The heedless man gets a stiff caution or is dropped. No wheel chair superintendent can beat that kind of operation."

It is worth good money to a road to make this kind of record. It can afford to pay very high for rigid, intelligent supervision of this kind.

ONE DOSE RELIEVES A COLD—NO QUININE

"Pape's Cold Compound" Ends Bad Colds or Grippe in a Few Hours.

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe-misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine. (adv)

MOVEMENT TO REVIVE THE MAYSVILLE FAIR

A movement has been started at Maysville to revive the old-time county fairs that were so successful several years ago. Since the fair grounds were sold for manufacturing purposes the only place available is the twenty-two-acre race track on the southern edge of the city in the east end, and the plan is to rent it for five years with the privilege of buying. It is planned to erect a splendid amphitheater and build a race course. If this goes through the fair will be held the latter part of this summer.

THE GIST OF IT.

"Last December I had a very severe cold and was nearly down sick in bed. I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a very few days until I was restored to health," writes O. J. Metcalf, Weatherby, Mo. If you would know the value of this remedy, ask any one who has used it. Obtainable everywhere. (adv-jan)

GIVE WOMEN VOTE, BRYAN TELLS OHIO LEGISLATORS

William J. Bryan urged Ohio Legislators in joint session at Columbus, O., to extend presidential suffrage to women.

"Let no Democrat question the capacity of women for suffrage, for it was the women who elected President Wilson last fall, when the men would have defeated him," Bryan said, addressing his remarks to the Democratic majority. Two bills granting women presidential suffrage are pending in the Ohio General Assembly. Bryan also urged anti-liquor legislation and warned the lawmakers against compulsory military training.

PAINFUL COUGHS RELIEVED.

Dr. King's New Discovery is a soothing, healing remedy for coughs, and colds that has stood the test of nearly fifty years. For that cough that strains the throat, and saps the vitality, try Dr. King's New Discovery. The soothing pine balsams and mild laxative ingredients soon drive the cold from the system. Have a bottle on hand for winter colds, croup, grippe and bronchial affections. At your Druggist, 50c. (adv-jan)

COST OF DISTRIBUTION.

If there were some way to reduce the cost of distribution—as there ought to be—the cost of living would not be nearly so great. For, in the final analysis, it is this same cost that is responsible for most of the complaints which one hears.

For illustration, there goes a heavy truck to the station. Upon it is about fifty pounds of freight—a small box containing something a country merchant has ordered from a wholesale house. In addition to the driver of the truck, there sits an extra man on the seat—to do the unloading when the station is reached.

The contents of the box are worth perhaps five dollars. That is what it cost the wholesaler. The cost of getting it to the depot will be about four dollars, figuring the wear and tear and the cost of the gasoline and the wages of the men in charge of the truck. Perhaps when it reaches its destination on the railroad, the same process will take place, and another heavy cost be encountered.

It is an exception. The wholesale house generally sends a whole truck load of goods to the depot. And still it is such an exception as one sees every day in the week, on every street of the city. You can see the big delivery wagons of the local stores making trips with small loads. You can find two men putting in several hours delivering a package that isn't worth a dollar. But it is all figured in overhead expense and the volume of trade must bear the expense. It is added to the cost of living, in other words, as it should be. But it is a waste, just the same, and if there were some way to prevent it the cost of living would not be so excessive as it is daily becoming.

ANNETTE KELLERMAN AT LEXINGTON OPERA HOUSE

In "A Daughter of the Gods," the $1,000,000 spectacle in which William Fox has featured Annette Kellerman, the attraction at the Lexington Opera House, January 29-30-31 with matinee Tuesday and Wednesday. Its creator and financial sponsor has eclipsed anything ever attempted in the field of motion pictures. Mr. Fox has stopped at nothing in his ambition to outdo all others in the poetic, the beautifully spectacular and the artistic.

Reasoning that all is possible to him who would try, he took over an entire tropical island and from an arid spot created a city of thousands of residents, which he governed as supreme sovereign by cable from his offices in New York City. Never feazed by what another would seem unsurmountable, physical obstacles, he diverted a river from its course and razed hills to the level of a plain.

Earthquakes, hurricanes and floods played their havoc for a time, but to his credit it must be said that, never daunted, he continued on and finally accomplished what must go down in the history of the motion picture industry as the post-high achievement. Miss Kellerman, too, accomplished prodigies in the water and some of the scenes, full of actual peril from high surfing seas and treacherous rock, are full of thrills as well as enduring beauty. A Southern Gentleman Is Popular Everywhere

I'm on the Level—

I play fair—

and I never lie to my friends—

Just think this over a minute.—How many friends have you? Not the fellows who borrow from you—I mean the chaps who will fight for you! Fellows who believe in you—who stick by you through thick and thin. You can count them on one hand, can't you? But listen to this.—I have several million down South here.

And why? Because I've been on the level.

I've played fair. I've never lied to my friends, nor cheated them, nor double-crossed them, nor held out on them.

They know me by my right name—SOVEREIGN. A true gentleman of the South, born and bred of the real Southern stock. I mingle the blood of Virginia and Carolina—the best in the world—the choicest, sweetest, ripest, smoothest tobacco you ever smoked.

You Folks of the South KNOW Good blood!
You Folks of the South KNOW Good tobacco!

I have friends down South, and I keep them—because quality does tell. And it means a whole lot when I say:

I am guaranteed by The American Tobacco Co. —Buy me. If you don't like me return me to your dealer and get your money back. I have said it. A Southern gentleman is known the world over for keeping his word, and I have given you mine.

are only outward manifestations of the inflammation of the mucous surface that lines the lungs, the stomach and all the digestive tract, but they give you evidence of how sore a membrane may become as a result of inflammation, which is stagnation of the blood, rightfully called acute catarrh.

If you suffer from such conditions don't let them become chronic, don't run the risk of systemic catarrh.

Clear it Up With PERUNA

When your system is cleared of all its poisons, the membranes soothed and healed, the cold gone and your digestion restored, you will enjoy life, feel equal to all its tasks, and be at peace with the world. Let Peruna do for you what it did for this sufferer:

Mrs. L. A. Patterson, 238 Utah Avenue, Memphis, Tenn. says:

"I have been a friend of Peruna for many years. I have used it off and on for catarrhal complaints and found it a very excellent remedy. I have a small family of children. Times are hard with us, but I can scarcely afford to do without Peruna, especially during the season of the year when coughs and colds are prevalent. We always recommend Peruna to our neighbors, for the benefit it has been to us."

You needn't suffer longer with such a remedy at hand.

Peruna can be obtained in tablet form. You can carry it with you and take it systematically and regularly for a remedy, or as needed for a preventive. Get a box today.

E. H. von Schaick, Lieutenant Geo. UNUSUAL PRECEDENT IN PRISON SENTENCE AND FINE

SAN FRANCISCO, January 25.—For the first time in the history of the United States a foreign Consul-General of Germany in this country, was sentenced Monday to prison and payment of a fine for violation of American neutrality.

Judge William H. Hunt, in the United States District Court, sentenced Popp to two years in the Federal prison at McNeil's Island, Washington; one year in the county jail and assessed an aggregate fine of $10,000 against him, the prison and jail terms to run concurrently.

Three of Bopp's aids, Vice Consul

Wilhelm von Brincken and C. C. Crowley, a war-time secret agent, received like sentences.

Mrs. Margaret W. Cornell, Crowley's secretary, was given concurrent prison and jail sentences of one year and one day and of one year without fines.

Bopp and the four others were convicted by a Federal jury January 11 of conspiring to violate American neutrality by setting afoot a military enterprise against Canada in aid of Germany and of conspiring to violate the Sherman law by dynamiting munition ships.

The first is a felony, for which all, except Mrs. Cornell, received the maximum prison sentence. The second is a misdemeanor, and the defendants, except Mrs. Cornell, received the maximum sentence. Mrs. Cornell escaped the $5,000 fine.

Judge Hunt gave the defense 30 days to perfect an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and he fixed bail for Bopp and von Schaick at $10,000. They had been free since the indictments were returned, last March, on their own recognizance, guaranteed by the German Embassy.

The defense, it is said, will enter the appeal upon the military enterprise conspiracy conviction, setting up that Crowley's alleged plans to dynamite munition ships and trains in Canada did not constitute a "military enterprise."

WONDERFUL STUFF! LIFT UP YOUR CORNS

Apply a Few Drops Then Lift Corns or Callouses Off With Fingers—No Pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness. The drug is called Freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask any drug store for a small bottle of Freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callous.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callous. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the callous will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug Freezone doesn't eat out the corns or callouses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist doesn't have Freezone have him order it for you. (adv)

FORMER PARIS FAVORITE NOW FURORE IN NEW YORK.

The February issue of the Cosmopolitan Magazine and Vogue each contain handsome full page illustrations of Miss Maryelynn Miller, daughter of a former Paris footlight favorite, who is now creating a furore in New York as a theatrical star. Miss Miller is a step-sister of the Reynolds Sisters, who appeared in the Paris Grand Opera House on several occasions when the house was under the management of Robert S. Porter. They spent several months here, residing on Duncan Avenue. The sisters were Ruth and Clara, well-known to Paris theatre-goers during their residence here. The oldest sister, Ruth, married Dr. John Sweeney, formerly of Paris, now house physician of the Palmer House, in Chicago. Their mother married Karo Miller, leading man of the repertoire company playing here, Miss Maryelynn Miller, the subject of the sketch being their child. The Cosmopolitan says:

"Miss Maryelynn Miller has become a permanent fixture of the diverting entertainments at the Winter Garden in New York. 'The Show of Wonders,' as the latest production is called, puts the chief burden of its two big acts upon the youthful dancer, who is now in her third year with the organization. She is indeed one of the wonders of the New York stage."

PARIS TESTIMONY.

Home Proof, Here, There and Every where.

When you see Doan's Kidney Pills recommended in this paper you most always find the recommender a Paris resident. It's the same everywhere—in 3,800 towns in the U. S. Forty thousand people publicly thank Doan's. What other kidney remedy can give this proof of merit, honesty and truth? Home testimony must be true or it could not be published here. Read this Paris recommendation. Then insist on having Doan's. You will know what you are getting.

Phillip M. Heller, proprietor meat market, 722 Main street, Paris, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a few times in the past and have been greatly benefited by them. Sometimes my back has been weak and lame and the kidney secretions have passed too frequently, causing me to get up often at night. I have used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at these times and they have always rid me of the complaint. I always think that they are a splendid medicine and gladly recommend them."

Price 50 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Heller had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

NEWS FROM THE BORDER.

"Corpus Christi, Tex., Jan. 18, 1917.

"DEAR NEWS:

"Well, we are still here, and present prospects point to a continuance of the same predicament. The only reason I can give for keeping us here is 'pure cussed meanness.' We are about one hundred and sixty miles from the border (for which we are thankful), which is too far for us to be any protection to the towns that any bandits would be likely to attack. Our ammunition has been collected and stored for about two or three months; we are not getting any more target practice; so I can think of no reason but the one above that will explain why we are here.

"The extreme inclemency of the weather for the past week has been the cause of us getting a much-needed rest. We have a new inspector-instructor who must have a conscience as big as a barrel, judging from the way he has been working us for a month—close order drill, hike, maneuver, some problem to be worked out, forced march at attention for two miles, private school, and non-commissioned officer's school—constitute a day's work now. I'll swear it is as hard as getting out and doing a day's work in civil life. Don't never join the Federalized militia expecting to get an outdoor vacation—there ain't no such animal. Besides all that, we nearly freeze of a night. There is positively no difference in the corners of a tent as far as temperature is concerned. I know because I have tried 'em all.

"Have put in my application for a furlough home in March. Don't know for sure whether it will go through or not, but I am hoping it will anyway.

"Well, give everybody my regards.

"Yours truly,
"EARL CURTIS."

WOMEN OF SEDENTARY HABITS.

Women who get little exercise are likely to be troubled with constipation and indigestion and will find Chamberlain's Tablets highly beneficial. Not so good as a three or four mile walk every day, but very much better than to allow the bowels to remain in a constipated condition. They are easy and pleasant to take and most agreeable in effect. Obtainable everywhere. (adv-jan)

MOTHERHOOD WOMAN'S JOY

Suggestions to Childless Women.

Among the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the ability to correct sterility in the cases of many women. This fact is well established as evidenced by the following letter and hundreds of others we have published in these columns.

Poplar Bluff, Mo.—"I want other women to know what a blessing Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been to me. We had always wanted a baby in our home but I was in poor health and not able to do my work. My mother and husband both urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, my health improved and I am now the mother of a fine baby girl and do all my own house work."

—Mrs. ALLA E. TIMMONS, 216 Almond St., Poplar Bluff, Mo.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice—it will be confidential and helpful.

One Experience Convinced Me of its Value

"One of our salesmen demonstrated the value of the Long Distance Telephone to us. He was at Huntsville, Ala., and upon his own responsibility put in Long Distance calls for fifteen merchants within a radius of several hundred miles.

"In less than one hour he had sold 2100 barrels of flour at a total cost to us of less than six dollars.

"Since then we have applied the Long Distance Bell Telephone to every feature of our business with most profitable results. The service is fine, the rates are reasonable and there is more satisfaction in one Long Distance Telephone talk than in half a dozen letters."

NOTED KENTUCKIAN TALKS ON "BIRDS IN THE WOODS."

Under the above caption The Eustis Lake Region, published at Eustis, Florida, by Mr. Clarence E. Woods, formerly of the Richmond Register, has the following eulogistic reference to Dr. Hugh Johnson, formerly of Paris, and now of Lexington and the country at large. The friends of the amiable "Dr." will be greatly surprised to learn of his oratorical accomplishments. The article follows:

"The most remarkable exhibition of technical learning coupled with forensic ability ever seen here was the lecture on 'Birds in the Woods' by Dr. Hugh Johnson, a noted physician formerly of Carlisle and Paris, Kentucky. He has traveled extensively throughout the West, and received great praise for his services in the last Wilson campaign in Kansas, Wyoming and Utah. As is well known, those States gave big Wilson majorities, and the credit is freely divided between Dr. Dr. Hugh Johnson, of Kentucky, and Wm. Jennings Bryan, the only other campaigner who could hold a candle to Dr. Johnson.

"The Doctor spoke for Wilson in the great Mormon Tabernacle, which was an unparalleled if not positively audacious exhibition of nerve. And yet Utah went just as Dr. Johnson predicted.

"His lecture here on 'Birds in the Woods' brought to our city hundreds of visitors to hear this noted expert on the feathered tribe. From the ordinary barn yard biddy to the soaring American Eagle, not to omit the classic vulture of Florida that wears the lowly name of buzzard, he displayed a knowledge that was amazing. His familiarity with ornithology, the science of birds, was not to be wondered at when he exhibited his diplomas from the Zoological Gardens of London, Paris and Cincinnati. When the Audubon Society of Florida learned of Dr. Johnson's presence in Jacksonville, he was engaged to lecture in Jacksonville, Tampa, Tallahassee, St. Petersburg, Key West, and Fort Myers. His lecture in Eustis created so much interest that the youths of the vicinity instituted a Bird House Contest and in the presence of 900 people, gold, silver and paper money prizes were awarded as shown in the accompanying illustration, and after the show Dr. Johnson raffled off the houses and netted a handsome sum for the youthful builders.

"After his Florida engagements are filled, Dr. Johnson will leave for Galveston, Texas, to instruct the authorities how to educate the sea gulls, herons and other ocean fowl to destroy the decaying fish along the sea-wall that threatens at times the health of the residents of that part Galveston."

PLAT OF FAIR GROUNDS
BUILDING SITES.

The plat of the Fair Grounds, on South Main street, will be completed and ready for inspection about January 15, and can be seen at the Deposit & Peoples Bank. These grounds will be cut into desirable and roomy acre tracts and are to be placed on sale February 3.

This is the most desirable tract of land around Paris for suburban homes, and no doubt will find a ready sale to Bourbon people.

WHERE THE DIFFERENCE COMES IN.

A well-known Kentucky editor, (and he was as well-known in Paris as in any other city in the State), was once asked by a number of his patrons who had sent in many communications to his paper, why the same did not appear in the paper. His answer was that "What you write is advertising; what we want is news." It is sometimes very difficult to draw the distinction between news and advertising. This old editor, however, hit the nail on the head.

Some of the richest corporations, great steel works, railroads, political parties, educational commissions, and Lord knows what others, are sending their plate matter out broadcast in the hope that the country publisher will accept it and publish it "free-of-charge-for-nothing" as news items, thus giving them the benefit of a large amount of free advertising. All this stuff is carried (out) by us absolutely free, and is promptly consigned to the cavernous depths of a very capacious waste basket, from whence it is taken later on to a large able-bodied paper baler, and that's the last of it. People who are able to pay can no longer put over such a clear case of graft on the Kentucky country newspaper, as indicated very clearly by the decisive action taken at the recent meeting in Lexington.

SEVERE WEATHER.

On account of the snow blockade and the severe weather of the past week, which kept the country people almost prisoners in their homes, and the gas famine of the first part of the week in Paris, there was probably less business done in Paris in that time than for any similar period in the city's history. Business for a time was practically at a standstill, and it was almost impossible to issue a newspaper, too. Yet THE NEWS, which has never missed an issue in the thirty-six years of its existence, managed to get out a really readable paper, considering the difficulties in the way.

LAFAYETTE HOME.

The historic chateau in France which was the birthplace of Marquis de Lafayette has been purchased by Americans, it was announced last week, to be restored and perpetuated as a memorial, museum and home. The purchase was made possible through the efforts of Mrs. William Astor Chandler and John Moffat, associated with many other prominent Americans, it was announced last week. The estate was sold by Marquis Gaston de Lafayette, who inherited it in 1890 from Senator Edmund de Lafayette. The present marquis is a grandson of General Washington Lafayette. The purpose of the French Heroes Fund, it was announced, is to make the chateau a complement to Washington's home at Mount Vernon. In it are to be kept records of colonial days as well as those of the present war. It will be made a home for orphans and for soldiers who have been disabled.

Did you get one? Last week we mailed out several thousand subscription statements. Some people called them "duns." About fifty per cent replied to them. The majority just mailed checks without comment; some were insulted by being "dunned;" others claimed that the statements were incorrect, and some of them were. We all make mistakes. However, they were cheerfully corrected.

We mailed these statements because the money was due and we needed it. We didn't mean to hurt anyone's feelings—we just wanted the money and politely asked for it. Now if you laid your statement aside without letting us get a reply from it, please hunt it up, as it costs money for stamps and stationery to ask you through the mails again for the small amount you may owe. Be a good fellow and mail in that check you have been intending to send and get a receipt by return mail with "I Thank You" on it.

LITTLEJOHN TO VISIT
PARIS IN THE SPRING

A letter from Mr. J. P. Littlejohn, proprietor of the Littlejohn Greater Amusement Company, which has filled engagements in Paris several years, states that his shows have closed for the season at West Point, Georgia, where they will reopen on March 2, for the next spring and summer season of 1917. Most of the members of the company will spend the remainder of the winter in the summer resorts of Florida and will rejoin the shows when they reopen in West Point.

In the letter Mr. Littlejohn expressed the greatest admiration for Paris and said every time Kentucky was mentioned some one would be sure to say, "Hope we get to Paris, Ky., this season." He said he hoped to be able to get a more convenient location in Paris and that he hoped he would not be forced to take his shows outside the city limits.

The Littlejohn Shows will always be welcome visitors to Paris because they are clean and wholesome, and Mr. Littlejohn, a Southern born man, will not tolerate the least objectionable feature to remain an hour with his shows. Personally he is one of the most reliable and best-known men in his line of business in the country, and stands for what is right and wholesome in the amusement line. Mr. Littlejohn stated that the past season was one of the most successful he had experienced in many years. He has added several new features that will be of great attractiveness. We'll wait for Littlejohn and we'll all go to the show!

GLANCES.

(Indianapolis News.)

Wherever people come together the air is full of glances, and yet for the most part they are stolen, for the unwritten law in such cases is that one person shall not look openly into the eyes of another unless some mutual acquaintance has uttered the meaningless but extraordinarily important words of introduction. Perhaps it is because custom demands that among strangers glances of shy appraisal or frank interest must be stolen that they are so intense, so furtive, and, in the main, so interesting. The principal difficulty in learning about them from observation is, of course, that in order to observe one must of necessity steal a few glances. What one can learn in a brief glance is little, but with practice it becomes greater, and a skilled observer, used to think quickly and to the point about what he sees, can see and learn much without making a brazen nuisance of himself. In crowds, where it is easy to observe without great risk of detection, it is amusing to watch a person who is watching a person. Given time enough, the observed person will inevitably become conscious of being observed. Then follows a quick turn of the head, stranger glances cross for an instant, and immediately both pairs of eyes scurry for cover. But this is no time to stop. As likely as not both persons will betray a curiosity starving for satisfaction. If both minds are of about the same degree of responsiveness, both persons will react to the situation at about the same time, and again there will be a clash of glances, this time followed by a resolute turn of the head. Seemingly the incident is closed. Each has learned something about the other and about himself. But, of course, being human beings, neither person is quite satisfied. The observed being the aggressor, will probably turn to some one else.

But within the observed one a curious reaction has taken place. Manifestly no one would stare, much less be caught staring, at an ordinary person. Therefore, somewhere about the observed person there is something interesting, perhaps something wrong. Then automatically the observed person classifies himself before the world. If he is vain, the glance of the observer was plain admiration. If he has done something wrong which lies heavily upon his conscience, there can be no doubt that the observer has heard about it and must find out more. If the observed person happens to be a bride with a glittering new band ring on her finger, she knows the observer could have seen nothing else, and her hand burns in proud appreciation. If the observed happens to be experiencing the first enthusiasm of a grandfather, he is positive that all the world knows about it. The boy with his first long trousers, the girl with her hair done high for the first time, the man with the new touring car and the woman who is two jumps ahead of fashion with the only dress like it in the State—all of them know for certain that the eyes of the world are upon them. And who can dispute it?

"PROBLEMS OF THE RETAIL TRADE."

Under the heading of "Editorial Musings" THE NEWS will, beginning with the current issue, Friday, January 26, print a series of six editorials dealing with the problems of the retail trade as especially applied to towns the size of Paris. We realize that the retail stores of a city are among its most important institutions. The prosperity, success and comfort of living of a town depends largely on the enterprise shown by the merchant, and the quality of service they render. Many of our people do not realize all the difficulties the merchants have to contend with in offering this service. An account of some of the problems they have to meet, and a discussion of the relations existing between the retail store and the public, will be given in these articles.

Among the subjects to be discussed are the following: "Necessity of Unity Among Merchants;" "The Service Rendered By the Home Stores;" "The Problem of Returning Goods;" "The Training of Salespeople;" "Attracting Trade From Distant Points," etc. The ideas and information in these articles have been gleaned from personal talks and interviews with merchants who are representative business men in their respective lines, and the retail merchant's point of view is given expression. There will be things said that the home merchants will like for the purchasing public to know. The value of the home store's service will be emphasized. The public will find these articles to be of vital interest.

SLIGHT DAMAGE.

The residence of Mr. Boone Baldwin on Cypress street, was slightly damaged by fire Monday, caused by an overburdened grate, from which live coals dropped on the floor. The blaze scorched a rug and burned a small part of the baseboard in the room. The fire department responded to an alarm from Box 33 and extinguished the blaze. The damage was very slight.

WANTED—RAILROAD.

Efforts are being made to extend the Brooksville railroad to Mt. Olive, Robertson county, the only county in the State without any kind of a railroad. The place was completely isolated the past week, owing to the heavy snow making the roads impassable, and the people there are willing to do almost anything to get a railroad.

EXAMINATION FOR COUNTY SCHOOL GRADUATES

The county examinations for common school graduates will be held in the office of Miss Mabel Robbins, County Superintendent of Schools, in the court house this (Friday) afternoon.

BASKET BALL.

The Paris Y. M. C. A. team defeated the Versailles team of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium in Versailles, Tuesday night by a score of 43 to 2. The Paris team and the Centre College team of Danville, will play here tomorrow evening, January 27, at 8:00 o'clock.

TAX-PAYERS MASS MEETING.

The tax-payers of Bourbon county are called to assemble at a mass meeting to be held at the court house in Paris, at two o'clock, tomorrow, (Saturday) afternoon. Addresses will be made, in which the tax-payers of the county will hear something very decidedly to their interest.

WILL PROBATED.

The will of the late Mr. James W. France, who died some weeks ago at his home in Flemingsburg, was admitted to probate in the Fleming County Court. By the terms of the instrument all his property is left to his widow for her personal use and benefit, and if any is left at her death it is to go to his son-in-law, Rev. W. O. Sadler, of Paris, with instructions that a house and lot be purchased out of it for Elisha France, a brother of the deceased.

REMOVAL NOTICE.

I desire to inform my friends and patrons that I have moved my law offices from their former location in the Masonic Temple to new and handsomely-furnished quarters in suite 505-504, in the First National Bank building.

P. A. THOMPSON.

A TIDY PLACE.

Hundreds of people pass in and out of the Paris postoffice every day, in all kinds of weather, and one would naturally suppose that under the circumstances there would be traces of untidiness about the building. Yet the floors and steps are kept in an irreproachable condition and cleanliness and tidiness are strikingly manifest in all the departments. Every bit of the interior is as clean as a new pin. The postoffice department lays a strict injunction upon postmasters and caretakers of its buildings and spares no efforts to have everything clean and neat looking. In the interest of cleanliness and sanitation many business houses could pattern after the big Government Building in Paris.

POOL TOURNAMENT.

The one hundred ball pool tournament which started at the N. A. Moore pool room, on Monday, January 15, continues to attract a great deal of attention from devotees of this fascinating game. The last report THE NEWS had was of the games up to last Thursday night. Since then the following have been played: Thursday, Jan. 18—Elgin, 100, Duncan, 71; Friday, January 20—Davis, 100, Jones, 61; Monday, January 22—James, 100, Elgin, 54; Wednesday, January 23—Duncan, 100, Jones, 54.

The games will continue throughout January and February. At the conclusion the player getting the largest percentage in the games played will be presented with a handsome silver loving cup now on exhibition in the pool room.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.

A great many of our first of January subscribers have not renewed for the coming year. We feel satisfied that most of them desire the paper sent for another year, but they have simply neglected to hand in their two dollars as a reminder of the fact. Do it now, and save us the trouble of taking your name off the list.

Another thing that is of the utmost importance. When a subscriber moves from one part of the city or the county to another, or there is any change of address at all, that fact should promptly be reported to this office, so that the necessary change may be made on our mailing list. This will save both time and trouble for the office and the mail carrier, as in cases of that kind the papers are returned to us, with instructions to either drop the subscriber or to make them furnish their correct address. We know you don't want to miss even one issue of the best paper in Bourbon county, or in several counties, for that matter, so see that we are furnished with your correct address in every case where you move somewhere other than your present location.

DESERVED PROMOTION.

Mr. Louis Meglone, who has for several years been one of the most popular and obliging members of the clerical force of the Paris postoffice, has received notice from the Postoffice Department at Washington, of confirmation of his recent appointment as carrier on City Rural Route No. 1, in Paris. Mr. Meglone will succeed Mr. James Templin, who recently sent in his resignation to take effect February 1. Mr. Templin will take a part interest in the business of the Templin Lumber Co.

Mr. Meglone has been in the postal service for a little over four years, during which time he has amply demonstrated his fitness for any important position in the service. He has at all times been courteous and obliging and above all, most efficient. In losing Mr. Templin the service loses a first-class man, and only the fact that another good man takes his place is compensation to the patrons who are served on the city route over which he will tread in summer and winter. THE NEWS wishes both of them good luck.

FEDERATION OF CLUBS TO MEET

PRESIDENT WILSON
ADVOCATES WORLD PEACE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—President Wilson, in a personal address to the Senate, Monday, laid down the question of whether the United States shall depart from its traditional policy of isolation and no entangling alliances and take part in a world league to preserve peace after the war.

Shattering precedent of more than a century, the President, regarding the Senate, with its treaty-making power, as his counselor in foreign affairs, explained why he believed the time had come for the world to know America's position, and discuss the underlying causes on which he believes a permanent peace of the world can be maintained.

While President Wilson was speaking directly to the Senators, after the manner of Washington, Madison and Adams, his address was in the hands of all foreign governments or on its way to them.

The President summed up his paper in the following striking paragraphs: "I am proposing, as it were, that the nations should with one accord adopt the doctrine of President Monroe as the doctrine of the world, that no nation should seek to extend its policy over any other nation or people, but that every people should be left free, to determine its own policy, unhindered, unthreatened, unafraid, the little along with the great and powerful."

"I am proposing that all nations henceforth avoid entangling alliances which would draw them into competition of power, catch them in a net of intrigue and selfish rivalry and disturb their own affairs with influence from without. When all unite to act in the same sense and with the same power, all act in common interest and are free to live their own lives under a common protection."

"I am proposing government by the consent of the governed; that freedom of the seas, which in international conference after conference, representatives of the United States have argued with the eloquence of those who are convinced disciples of liberty and that moderation of armaments which makes of armies and navies a power for order merely, not an instrument of aggression or selfish violence."

"These are American principles. American policies. We could stand for no other. And they are also the principles and policies of forward-looking men and women everywhere, of every modern nation, of every enlightened community. They are the principles of mankind and must prevail."

BAD COLD QUICKLY BROKEN UP.

Mrs. Martha Wilcox, Gowanda, N. Y., writes: "I first used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy about eight years ago. At that time I had a hard cold and coughed most of the time. It proved to be just what I needed. It broke up the cold in a few days, and the cough entirely disappeared. I have told many of my friends of the good I received through using this medicine, and all who have used it speak of it in the highest terms." Obtainable everywhere.

CHILD FATALLY BURNED.

GEORGETOWN, KY., Jan. 25.—Harold Wilson, 1 year old, was scalded to death Monday morning. While the child was playing on the kitchen floor his mother lifted a tea kettle of boiling water from the stove. The handle broke as she raised it and the contents were thrown on the babe.

HOW TO CHECK THAT COLD.

When it is painful to breathe and fever sends chills up and down your back, you are in for a cold. A timely dose of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey will stop the sneezes and sniffles. The pine balsam loosens the phlegm and clears the bronchial tubes, the honey soothes and relieves the sore throat. The antiseptic qualities kill the germ and the congested condition is relieved. Croup, whooping cough and chronic bronchial affections quickly relieved. At all Druggists, 25c.

MERCHANT FINDS
TRADE BOOSTER

Wears Cheerful "Tanlac Smile,"
the Kind Customers Like.

WAS SICKLY AND IRRITABLE

"There's a cheery atmosphere about the clothing house of Geigerman & Malone, 413 Euclid avenue, Cleveland, now, and customers seem more than ever glad to give it their patronage," declared the Tanlac Man. "It's because Mr. Malone woke up to the fact that he didn't need to go around glum and downcast when Tanlac was bringing health and happiness to so many."

"He tried it and it has spread a happy smile over his face—the 'Tanlac Smile'—and that store is as sunny as any in the city."

Health Was Poor.
Mr. Malone said:

"I have found Tanlac to be in a class by itself, and am convinced that it's all right."

"I was nervous and run-down. My kidneys and liver were not doing their work and I felt irritable and uncomfortable and could not rest well at night."

Tanlac For Him.

"Shortly after taking Tanlac I felt improved. Now my health is better than for years. Nervousness has disappeared and my bodily organs act normally."

"Trips to health resorts are fine for those who can spare the expense and time, but I am satisfied to forego such pleasures and health-seeking methods and stick to Tanlac."

Tanlac, the master medicine and reconstructive tonic, is sold exclusively in PARIS by Varden & Son. Other exclusive agents in nearby towns are as follows:

HUTCHISON Snell & Wood; MILLERSBURG, W. G. Wadell; ELIZABETH, Oscar Smith; CARLSLE, Tureman & Son; GEORGETOWN, C. H. Arnold; WINCHESTER, Duty Drug Company; AUSTERLITZ, B. S. Parrish.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR HORSES
DURING THE COLD WEATHER

Owners and drivers of horses and mules are urged to treat them with great consideration during this kind of weather by the officers of the Bourbon County Humane Society. In many instances the animals are left standing for several hours without covering and when the time comes for them to start they are so cold and stiff that they can hardly walk. When the horses are left hitched the society recommends that the snow and ice beneath the animal's feet be swept away.

In this connection the matter of caring for the birds and wild animals during the snow is brought up. Unless food is provided or unless the snow quickly melts it is the belief that most of the birds and wild animals of this neighborhood will die of starvation. The residents are requested to throw bread crumbs or other food scraps to the little feathered creatures.

Bethlehem's Bid on Shells for the United States Navy

To the American People:

The Secretary of the Navy has awarded contracts amounting to over $3,000,000 to a British bidder for 14 and 16-inch projectiles for the Navy because of very much lower prices offered by the English bidders.

We know nothing of the basis upon which the British bids were made, but the public is entitled to know the facts upon which we ourselves bid for this work.

Two years ago we took contracts to make 4,200 14-inch shells at a price of $1,515,000. Up to now not a single shell has been accepted by the Government, although we have expended, in wages, materials, etc., on these orders $522,381, and we have not received a SINGLE DOLLAR on these contracts.

In addition, a literal interpretation of the contract might make us liable for penalties amounting to $673,016.

In the light of our experience, and having no other basis, we bid for 16-inch shells approximately the same rate per pound as that which the Navy Department actually awarded a 14-inch shell contract one year ago.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" BEST LAXATIVES FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Don't Stay Constipated, Headachy, Bilious, With Breath Bad or Stomach Sour.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable and uncomfortable you are from a cold, constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets.

Don't let your stomach, liver and bowels make you miserable. Take Cascarets to-night; put an end to the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sick, sour, gassy stomach, bad cold, offensive breath and all other distress; cleanse your inside organs of all the bile, gases and constipated matter which is producing the misery.

A 10-cent box means health, happiness and a clear head for months. All druggists sell Cascarets. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a gentle cleansing, too. (adv)

MUNITIONS MAKE MANY MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—War Munitions exports from the United States to Europe since the war began have approached a billion dollars in value. Figures compiled Monday by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce show that the heaviest month's shipments of war supplies went forward in November, when the total was more than $80,000,000.

In the two years and a half of the war this country has shipped across the ocean cartridges valued at $85,000,000; gunpowder, valued at $35,000,000; other explosives, $475,000; and firearms, $60,000,000.

MILLERSBURG

—Mrs. Clara Shanks continues quite ill.

—Mrs. Neppie Rigdon is confined to her home with the gripe.

—“Everygirl,” a play modeled after “Everywoman,” will be given in the M. C. Auditorium this evening at eight o'clock. A pleasant evening awaits those who attend. Admission 25 cents.

—The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held an all-day meeting Wednesday, at the home of their pastor, Rev. J. W. Gardner. An interesting program was rendered, and a delightful lunch served at noon.

—I desire to thank the good people of Millersburg for their many demonstrations and acts of sympathy extended during the illness, death and burial of my wife, also to Dr. John B. Calhoun, and the undertaker, M. E. Pruitt, for their professional efforts, and Bros. Cossaboom and Gardner, and the singers for their consolation.

STROTHER INSKO.

—Miss King's class in expression will put on a play Friday evening at the M. C. auditorium. This is the second number of the Lyceum Course, and we know that it will be well rendered, as this gifted woman never stages any thing but good things. Admission, 25 cents. Let everybody go.

—The Cemetery Board met Wednesday morning and released A. T. Hillock as sexton, who had tendered his resignation some weeks ago, and appointed in his place Mr. S. E. Bruce. Mr. Hillock retires February 1st, at which time Mr. Bruce will take possession. Mr. Hillock purchased a 320-acre farm in Mississippi, last fall. He and his family will move to it early in February.

—Mrs. T. R. Rigdon and Alfred Pence will open a barber shop and pool room in the property of the I. O. O. F. lodge, on Main street, recently vacated by the dry goods store of C. W. Corington. Mr. Pence will move his shop from the room now occupied by him. The new shop when completed, and the pool room, with all of its equipments, will be one of the most complete in Central Kentucky.

—The writer proposes, beginning with the next issue of THE NEWS to give a brief history of all the property of Millersburg, beginning with March, 1889, at which time he moved to Millersburg. He proposes to take up the property systematically, beginning at the head of a street, and taking the property in order. This will also furnish fairly a good history of Millersburg from 1889 down to the present. If this plan is carried out it will require about two years to publish the same, with one piece of property each issue. He also proposes to tell so far as he can where the occupants of the various pieces of property, who were here at the time of his arrival, or have moved from here since then, now reside if living, or where they are buried if dead. This should awaken an interest in Millersburg not only with the good people of Millersburg, but throughout Bourbon county, and at the same time should largely increase the circulation of THE BOURBON NEWS. This is the only paper that will explain this history. It will be prepared for THE BOURBON NEWS only. If you are not now a subscriber, send your subscriptions to the office, or if in or about Millersburg, send it to the correspondent, R. M. Caldwell, who will give it immediate attention. The writer also asks the good people of Millersburg to render all the assistance possible in the making up of this history by giving facts and figures, or dates, if necessary, from time to time, as the work progresses. This can be made indeed interesting if the citizens will co-operate with the writer, and if they will also manifest an interest in the work by subscribing for THE NEWS.

STOCK, CROP, ETC.

—Tarr & Mitchell, of near Millersburg, sold on the breaks of the Bourbon warehouse, in Paris, 2,770 pounds of loose leaf tobacco that averaged $18.81 per hundred pounds.

—W. B. Burton, hule buyer, of Lancaster, recently sold a car load of mules to R. H. Best, at Warsaw, N. C. There were 25 mules in the shipment and they brought an average of $185.

—Myers & McClintock, of Paris, bought from farmers in Nicholas, Harrison, Fleming and Montgomery counties, 26 head of aged mules for $4,550, an average of $175 per head. The same firm sold 11 head of mules to a Lexington buyer for an average of about $185 per head.

SCIENTIFIC LAMP.

The electric reflecting lamp, sometimes known as the projector, is being developed to a high degree of perfection. Such a lamp has now been patented which is moulded of special glass to absorb certain of the rays of light which are recognized as more or less injurious to the eye. The injurious rays occur toward, and beyond, the violet end of the spectrum. By moulding the reflector of a greenish-yellow glass these upper rays of light are absorbing, and the reflector gives off a soft yellow. It has been found that this specially treated light is more effective in piercing fog and mist than ordinary electric light, and the new lamps are being used successfully for fog lamps.

FEED THE BIRDS.

The Fish and Game Commission has been requesting people to feed the birds. It has been our observation that some Paris people have been feeding several “birds” who spent their money last summer riding the Sunday excursions to Cincinnati.

DEATHS.

SOPER.

Miss Ellen Soper, aged thirty-five, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. H. Robbins, between Grassy Lick and Little Rock, in this county, Tuesday morning, after a long illness of spinal trouble. The body was taken to Carlisle for interment Wednesday. She was a daughter of Mrs. Frank Soper, and a sister of Mrs. Robbins, and Mr. Frank Soper, of this county.

LOGAN.

The funeral of Mary Ellen Logan, seven-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Logan, who died at the home of its parents, on West Street, in this city, Wednesday morning, was held at the family home at ten o'clock yesterday morning, with services conducted by Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Paris Christian church. The burial followed in the Paris Cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Logan came to Paris from Nicholas county some months ago.

GRANNAN.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Grannan, aged eighty-five, who died at her residence, on Main street, near Tenth, in this city, Wednesday morning, after a short illness of pneumonia, will be held at the Church of the Annunciation, in this city, at 9:30 o'clock this (Friday) morning, with services conducted by Rev. Father Eugene DeBruyn. The burial will follow on the family lot in the Paris Catholic cemetery. The pallbearers will be Dr. W. C. Usery, E. M. Costello, William H. Webb, Dr. F. P. Campbell, James H. O'Brien and E. M. Dickson.

Mrs. Grannan was the widow of Mr. Joseph Grannan, who was a well-known resident of Paris for many years, having been engaged in the merchant tailoring business here for the greater part of his life. Mr. Grannan preceded his wife to the grave in February, 1897. Mrs. Grannan was a native of County Waterford, Ireland, where she was born on October 19, 1832. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walsh, and emigrated from the old country to America in the early days. She was married to Mr. Grannan in Maysville, coming to Paris in 1860, where they had both resided continuously since. Mrs. Grannan was a woman of remarkable mentality, and one of her chief pleasures in her later days was to have friends call and tell her of the important news happenings of the day, both at home and abroad. She had a keen sense of humor, and was at her happiest when relating some of the events of past days in Paris. She was a companionable, whole-souled woman, a charitable one who never let anyone suspect her many kind deeds. She was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and lived strictly up to its teachings in all her life and in her dealings with the world and the people around her.

She is survived by the following children: William Grannan, Miss Elizabeth Grannan, both of Paris; Miss Mary Grannan and Mr. Edward Grannan, both of Cincinnati, and Mr. Joseph Grannan, of Kansas City, Mo., all of whom were at her bedside when she died.

FOREST NOTES.

Tests at the Forest Products Laboratory, at Madison, Wisconsin, indicate that by the use of four additional nails in each end an increase of 300 per cent in the strength of canned-food boxes is secured.

There were 135,442 more cattle and horses, and 695,338 more sheep and goats using the National Forests in 1916 than in 1915. This increase was in spite of large eliminations of grazing lands from the Forests. It is accounted for by improved methods of handling the stock and by more intimate knowledge of the forage on the ranges and their carrying capacity.

The number of fires suppressed on National Forest lands during the calendar year 1915 was 6,324, as against 7,018 in 1914, and an average annual number of 4,759 during the past five years, says Henry S. Graves, Chief of the Forest Service, in his annual report just published. While more than the average number of fires occurred the timbered area burned over was but 155,416 acres, or 30 per cent. less than the average per year for the period 1911-1915 inclusive. The average loss per fire was $60.41. Forty-four per cent. of the fires were confined to areas of less than one-quarter of an acre.

During the fiscal year 1916, 705,872 acres of National Forest timberlands were estimated and mapped intensively, and 1,093,006 extensively. In all, 20,815,798 acres have been mapped by intensive methods and 47,291,660 by extensive methods.

The work of classifying and opening to homestead entry such lands in the National Forests as are chiefly valuable for agriculture is progressing rapidly. Already over seventy million acres have been covered by field examinations and the final reports acted upon.

Investigations by the Forest Products Laboratory, at Madison, Wisconsin, have resulted in the use of spent tanbark in the manufacture of asphalt shingles to the extent of 160 tons per week. The value of the bark has been thereby increased from 60 cents to $2.50 per ton.

There were cut from the National Forests in the fiscal year 1916, 604, 920,000 board feet of timber. Of this amount 119,483,000 board feet was cut under free use privilege by 42,955 individuals. In all, 10,810 sales of timber were made, of which 97 per cent. were under $100 in value, indicating the extent to which the homesteader, rancher, miner, small millman, and others in need of a limited quantity of timber draw upon the Forests.

RELIGIOUS.

—St. Peter's Episcopal church, Rev. Geo. H. Harris, rector, Sunday school, 9:30 a. m.; service and sermon, 10:45 a. m.

—The Young Peoples' Christian Endeavor Society, of the Christian church will have charge of a special program Sunday evening at 6 o'clock in the church parlor. The subject will be: “Voice From the World Field.” All are very cordially invited.

—Rev. W. A. Hopkins, of Lexington, who was sometime ago extended a call to the pastorate of the Paris Presbyterian church, will be extended a call to the Maysville church, and it is thought he will accept. Rev. Hopkins preached a trial sermon at Maysville last Sunday at the Central Presbyterian church.

ENCOURAGING PARCEL POST SHIPMENTS OF FOOD PRODUCTS

Postmaster J. Walter Payne is in receipt of the following circular letter from the Postoffice Department at Washington, in which his co-operation is asked in the matter of encouraging farmers and others to use the parcel post system in disposing of their food products.

“In view of the high prices of food products now prevalent throughout the country, it is desired that you advertise and advocate in every way practicable the facility offered by the parcel post for the shipment of farm products directly from the producer to the consumer. Investigate thoroughly this matter as it affects your city and be prepared to advise patrons and civil organizations in an intelligent and helpful manner. Compare the prices received by the farmers within the second zone of your office for butter, eggs, fresh meat, and other farm produce with the prices for these commodities by your patrons. The difference is the present cost to the consumer in your city of bringing these food products from the farm to the table. Compare this cost on various articles with the parcel post charge on identical shipments (both in small lots and in 50-pound packages). This difference, in each case, is what may be saved on a commodity by those who go to the trouble of making an arrangement for securing food supplies by parcel post.

“Farmers within the first and second zones should be inspired by the almost unlimited opportunity to expand the business of producing and selling directly to the consumers in your city butter, eggs and such meat and vegetable products as your investigation shows can be shipped in that way with a sufficient margin of profit. They should be cautioned, however, that this business can not be developed and maintained unless they are willing to share liberally with the customer in the city the saving which is effected by parcel post shipment. Farmers must be brought to understand that the city customer in dealing with them by mail foregoes the advantages of credit, personal inspection of goods, and immediate delivery, and that he naturally can not be expected to deal by parcel post unless he can be assured of better products at less price.”

ENTERPRISING LEXINGTON HANDS OUT ADVICE

The following editorial appeared in a recent issue of the Lexington Daily Leader. Coming from Lexington, which is always grabbing off everything in the way it can from the merchants of the surrounding towns, it does have a strange sound. Paris people who have been admonished to do their trading with home people, and who seemingly prefer to give their patronage to Lexington merchants should read every line of this editorial and see if it doesn't have a strange sound somewhere:

“PURCHASES WITHOUT SERVICE

“Going farther and faring worse.” How truly this trite old phrase applies in buying home supplies. People will pay far more to some distant city, exhaust themselves with a day of shopping, waste valuable time, and return with goods they could have bought at home. And they admit it.

“Making a wise purchase is not simply handing over your money to a machine. You want some personal service. You don't get that out of a mail order house shipment, or from some stranger clerk in a distant department store.

“On the contrary, the home merchant and his clerks try to make a sale that will fit your needs. They give you the benefit of their intelligence and experience. They speak of defects to be avoided and give information about goods. In making this kind of purchase, you get service, something more than the bare goods handed over the counter. And if they don't fit, you get satisfaction.”

TEN BILLION TONS OF COAL.

The Nenana coal field, Alaska, will be tributary to the Government railroad now under construction from Seward to Fairbanks. Though the coal of this field is lignite and hence of low grade, yet it has great value as a source of fuel and power for Fairbanks and other Yukon place camps. The field is about 60 miles south of Fairbanks. It is estimated by the United States Geological Survey Department of the Interior that the Nenana field contains some ten billion tons of lignite. The Nenana coal field lies in what is known as the Bonfield region, which also contains some gold placers that have been mined in a small way for the last 10 years. This district is described in a report entitled “The Bonfield Region, Alaska” (Bulletin 501), which can be obtained on application to the Director of the Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS LOST THROUGH RUSTING MACHINERY

All farm implements should now be under shelter and be put in first-class condition for next season. The binder should be repaired now and not when you are ready to begin work. Delay at harvest time may mean the loss of many dollars. The same principle holds true for all other farm machines.

Too many farmers are careless with the equipment which makes farming a paying business. In every section of the State farm machinery can be seen out in the weather for weeks and months at a time. Such practices eat up the profits of the farm. What would the farmer think of the manufacturer who neglected his machinery? The manufacturer would be a mighty poor business man, yet the farmer, who is the greatest producer, allows his machines to rust and go without care.

Every farmer should have a place to store his machinery. A small building of simple construction, located between the house and barn is best. A long shed not more than 18 feet wide, provided with continuous doors along one side, is more convenient for removing implements than a wider building. A small shop included at one end is a great convenience in keeping implements in repair.

SECOND KENTUCKY REGIMENT TO GO TO FT. THOMAS.

The Second regiment, Kentucky National Guard, which it was planned to bring to Lexington for demobilization, will be sent to Fort Thomas, according to plans submitted by Adjutant General Tandy Ellis to the War Department. A proposition had been made to demobilize the Second regiment at Lexington, but was given up after a Board of Commerce committee had made an investigation and found no suitable quarters which could be made available without considerable expense. The First and Third regiments will probably be demobilized at Louisville and arrangements are being made for the mustering out of the State troops there. The demobilization of the troops will not sever the connection of the individual members with the national guard. Those members of the guard who took the required Federal oath will remain members of the guard and as such will be reserves of the United States army until the expiration of their enlistment. Other members of the Kentucky companies may leave the national guard after thirty days from demobilization.

EVERY TIME WE WINK WE GIVE THE EYE A BATH

Every few seconds we wink both our eyelids at once, although not purposely. If we stop winking, our eyes become uncomfortable and gradually cease to work as they should. When the eye is open the front of it is exposed to dirt and dust and is apt to become so dry that a painful stinging sensation results or would do so if constant moisture were not provided to cleanse and soothe the tissues.

As a matter of fact each time we wink we wash the eye, says the Popular Science Monthly. Up above each eye is a tiny water bag called the tear gland, and all the time we are awake it makes tears. When the front of the eye feels itself becoming a little too dry or dusty a communication it sent for a supply of moisture. The eyelid then comes down with a tear inside it to wash clean the front of the eye. This is the most gentle and perfect washing in the world.

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

The value and need of a newspaper in the household was never greater than at the present time. The great war in Europe is now half-way into its third year, and, whether peace be at hand or yet be far off, it and the events to follow it are sure to be of absorbing interest for many a month to come.

These are world-shaking affairs, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, is compelled to take a part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 756 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE BOURBON NEWS together for one year for $2.75. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00. (11)

RAINBOW TROUT FOR UPPER CUMBERLAND ARE SECURED

If 10,000 rainbow trout secured from the Government hatchery at Louisville by the Kentucky Game and Fish Commission thrive in the headquarters of the Cumberland in Harlan county, where they will be placed the first of next week, Kentucky mountain streams soon will be stocked with game fish, which have attracted sportsmen and made famous northern and western fishing camps.

The trout require cool water, and Poor and Clover Forks of the Cumberland were selected by Executive Agent J. Q. Ward as the most favorable waters for the experiment. The fish secured are fine specimens and the experiment will be observed with great watchfulness.
